Nikonians Academy Workshop Head Instructor

We are looking for a Head Instructor for the Nikonians Academy in Europe who has the passion to inspire others, to lead a team of professional instructors and to teach a regular schedule of photographic and software workshops in cities throughout Europe.

If you have an excellent ability to organize and teach and if you have a very good grasp of photography, then we encourage you to apply right away.

Requirements:

- Excellent ability to inspire others – instructors and workshop participants
- Excellent interpersonal and relational skills
- Excellent ability to teach complicated photographic topics
- Burning enthusiasm and excitement for photography
- Very good organizational skills
- Solve problems as they arise
- Very good computer skills
- Be fluent in English and German, both in writing and oral
- Dutch would be a plus
- Able and willing to travel and commit time on weekends

Workshop topics would be:

- Nikon Capture NX
- Photoshop
- Digital camera operation (D3, D700, D300, D90, etc.)
- Nikon Wireless Flash
- Other topics as necessary (Adobe Lightroom, Bibble, Travel Photography, etc.)

Compensation will be arranged as a workshop revenue sharing agreement between the workshop leader and Nikonians.

What Nikonians offers

Nikonians is looking for people with exceptional skills who thrive in highly energetic, small and focused teams. As a global community, we believe in our ability to enhance the world of photography and imaging, shortening the learning curve. We rely on a team approach that understands the concept of community spirit, creativity and idealism, which amounts to more than the sum of the individual parts themselves.
